A Great Celebration to Mark the United States: President's Return.

Washington to Greet the Executive With Open Arms-The Date of the Demonstration Not Yet Fixed-The Details to Be Arranged Later.

When President McKinley returns to Washington he will be greeted with a great popular demonstration. The officers of the Washington Board of Trade have strated the novement. Today the Com-missioners will be asked to take general charge of the arrangements. The date of the celebration will depend entirely on the convalescence of the President Ever since it became a practical cer tainty that Mr. McKinley would recover from the effect of the anarchist bullets there has been an undercurrent of feeling that a public expression of the thankfulcas of Washingtonians should be venter when he should return to the National Capital. The matter was started in a gentle way on Tuesday when from the bulletins it appeared that the President was out of danger. The officers of the Board of Trade conferred together yes-terday. It was decided that the matter was one which should be of an entirely public character. For this reason the Ecard of Trade will not endeavor to re-mair the engineers of the project, but will ask the Commissioners of the Dis-trict to take the matter in charge. According to the rough outline of the plans formulated there will be a great parade from the railroad station up Pennsylvania Avenue to the White House. From the heartiness with which the idea has been met, it is evident that the dem-onstration will excel in enthusiasm any ever held in the District of Columbia. The sincerity of the feelings of citizens has been evidenced by the constant vigils in front of dewntown bulletin boards.

The suggestion of a public reception of any public speaking, especially on the part of the President, has received hard-ly any consideration. The general sentiment is that, although Mr. McKinley iy any consideration. The general sentiment is that, although Mr. McKinley will be fairly strong when he returns to the White House, he will hardly be in condition to stand the strain of a public reception. From the existing condition of affairs, it may be that some plan will be hit upon to express to the President in appropriate manner the thankfulness for his recovery feit by those who might be termed his fellow-citizens. Of course, the popular sentiments will be apparent in themselves.

The conduct of the affair by the Commissioners will probably take the same form as have other celebrations, such as the Peace Jubilee and the Centennial Anniversary. A citizens committee will probably be appointed at an early date, if it is decided, as it undoubtedly win be, to hold the celebration. Commissioner Macfarlano is evidently in favor of the project, although he has not yet been interviewed regarding it. In a telegram received from him by Commissioner Boss he stated that he was leaving Buffalo mappy in the belief that the President was recovering and that the people of the listrict would be able to welcome the President in proper manner in a month. Secretary Cortelyou will probably be communicated with at an early date. It is expected that President McKinley will not be permitted to travel until he is in possession of plenty of strength. The special train will travel clowly. The schedule of the return will be arranged with respect to the wishes of the President and Mrs. McKinley, togetiner with such precautions as the physicians may deem necessary.

FROM SYMPATHY TO JOY.

First Congratulation on the President's Convalescence.

In the large batch of messages received vesterday from foreign rulers, diplomats, and other Government officials throughout the world, expressing regret and sym-pathy on receipt of the news of the President's illness, was the first expression of satisfaction upon the recovery of Mr. McKinley. This message came from a monarch of the Old World, beloved by his subjects for his energy and up-to-dateness, the King of Denmark, and was as

"President McKinley:
"Christian IX, King of Denmark, presents sincerest congratulations on your recovery from dastardly attempt."

Secretary Gage has received from Mr. Witte, the Russian Secretary of Finance, the following message of condolence:

"Accept my most sincere condolence:

"Accept my most sincere condolences on account of the frightful attempt committed against President McKiniey. I share with all my heart the sorrow of the American people, to which we are bound by ties of sincerest friendship and economic interests, and also in the earnest wishes of your citizens for the re-establishment to health of that eminent statesman.

"WITTE."

Replying to this, the Assistant Secretary of State, Mr. Adee, has cabled Mr. Tower, American Ambassador to Russia, the following:

"Department of State, Washington "Department of State, Washington.

"The Secretary of the Treasury has received from Mr. Witte a touching telegram of sympathy and condoience. He asks me to request you to make appropriate acknowledgment to his excellency. He feels that this message is no less addressed to our nation than to himself and that it testifies the deep affection that links the two peoples and finds its just expression on every possible occasion. The President's condition is most encouraging.

"ADEE, Acting Secretary."

Among the other messages of sympathy received yesterday were the following of

The statement is made by a member of Mr. Johnson's firm that there is not to be a dollar of water in the new capitalization, the entire cash realized from the sale of stock, after the payment of the mortgage, going into improvements and enlargements of the business, made necessary by the demands for its producta.

Mr. Auth makes the statement regarding his business that it has realized net profits in the past six years of $125,000. During the past year the sales of the business were $55,000, on which a net profit of $15,000 was realized. It is estimated that with the additional working capital realized from the sale of stock the business of the company can be doubled, and that the profits should be about $125,000. Mr. Auth and his sons will remain in the management of the business.

Stock may be purchased of Mr. Johnson or from the American Security and Trust Company, the registrar of the stock.

COMING TO THE THEATRES.

The National-"Foxy Grandpa." William A. Brady is said to be making claborate preparations at the National for the engagement next week of his new musical "snap-shot," "Foxy Grandpa," with Joseph Hart and Carrie De Mar and a supporting company of nearly fifty peo-ple. Though the piece has only been en-tour for six weeks of the present season, it has already demonstrated wonderful drawing abilities. Few new productions have jumped into such popular favor as Joseph Hart can instantly recognize the ideal Foxy, which has been made famous by the series of sketches in a New York paper, while the opportunities offered Carrie De Mar are claimed to be far ahead of anything she has previously done. Georgie Mack and Bobby Barry are the mischievous grandchildren.
The company is made up of many wellknown people, among whom are Henry Bergman, John F. Keefe, John E. Brennen, Clifton Crawford, J. R. Armstrong, and Arthur Borant, while Beatrice Lieb, Fanny Young, Mile Fleurette, Mand Morrison, Amalia Karle, Margaret Knight, and Nellie Berg form a coterie of clever supporters. The chorus is said to be one of the very best put together for a musical piece. "Foxy Grandpa," while largely appealing to children, is not strictly a juvenile performance, as it is filled with so many good things that it should appeal to children and adults ailke. The box office at the National will open this moraing. York paper, while the opportunities of Chase's-Opening Vandeville Bill. An attractive offering of widely known omedies and novelties in polite vaudeville has been arranged for the opening of Chase's Theatre, which will take place Monday afternoon next.

In presenting an opening bill which shall serve as a standard for the vaudeville season, Mr. Chase has been liberal and painstaking. Heading the list of features will be the "Gainsborough Octette," which is the creation of Ned Wayburn, and is the creation of Ned Wayburn, and which comes direct from a run of sixteen weeks at Hammerstein's in New York, it is described as a distinct novelty and was one of the biggest roof garden hits of the late summer. Charles E. Grapewin, supported by Anna Chance and company, will be seen in their comedy success, "Above the Limit," which is said to be very mirthful. Gertrude Mansfield and Carral Wilbur will appear in a new sketch pronounced to be their best work. The Great Onliaw Trio, which is declared to equal the Holloway Trio, comes from the London Hippodrome with an equilibristic act. Others on the bill will be Carolline Hull, who promises some new stories and songs; the Fraser troupe of five international dancers; John and Harry Dillon, comediums, and Monree and Wesley, eccentric entertainers. Orders for seats are now being filled.

The Academy-Barbara Frietchie. Clyde Fitch's play, "Barbara Frietchie," which will be seen at the Academy of Music next week, is one of the prettiest and most delightful products of his pen. He has taken an incident of the civil war which the poet Whittier celebrated in his immortal ballad, and woven a love story out of it that is as entrancing as "Romeo and Juliet." The Fitch heroine, however, is and Juliet." The Fitch heroine, however, is not "three score and ten" like Whittier's. She is a charming young maiden caught for the first time in the tangles of the tender passion, and like Juliet she sacrifices everything for love. Frances Gaunt, for the past several years under Charles Frohman's management, and whose greatest stage successes are identified with sweet and lovable characters like Barbara, will have the title role of the piece, and will be assisted in the cast by many favorite players. "Barbara Frietchie" had a run of more than one hundred and fifty performances at the Criterion Theatre, New York, where it was first produced. It was afterward presented for long periods in Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago, where its success was equally great. It is a play for young and old. Its sentiment and romance, its beauty and pathos, its pictures of Southern life, all appeal in a charming manner to every age and condition of theatre-goers.

Besides Charmion the Howard and Emerson show will include such promentnt vaudeville players as Laura Comstock, who was at Chase's for three weeks last spring; the Musical Johnsons, who extract high-class music from xylaphones, the Livingston family of acrobats, Fields and Harris, German comedians; Howard and Harris, German comedians; Howard and Emerson, in a new lot of illustrated songs and several other high-class acts of similar importance. The two burlesques will introduce twenty-four chorus girls who are said to be physically attractive and accomplished in dancing and singing. The sale of seats presages two immense audiences on the occasion of the opening.

The Columbia Theatre will open for the season Monday, September 21, when "The Liberty Belles' will be the attraction. This latest Klaw & Erlanger production was given for the first time last Monday was given for the first time last Monday night at Philadelphia and is reported as one of the genuine successes of the sea-son. The company is said to be one of remarkable strength, while the sixteen young women who replace the conven-tional chorus are described as the hand-somest and most ciaborately gowned lot of actresses in any organization.

Williams-Campbell.

Miss Corinne May Campbell and Mr. George Francis Williams were married Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. James Irwin Campbell, of Takoma Park, father of the bride. The wedding was quiet one on account of the recent death of the bride's mother, and was witnessed by few outside of the immediate relatives by few outside of the immediate relatives of the couple. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William I. Campbell, of Ringoes, N. J. brother of the bride, assisted by Rev. John Van Ness, of Takoma Park. The bride was becomingly attired in white organdy and chiffon and carried laride roses. Her sister, Miss Mary B. Campbell, the bridesmaid, were white organdy over pink and carried pink roses. The groom was attended by Dr. W. W. Hodges as best man. The parlors were handsomely decorated with roses and palms. Later in the evening a collation was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Williams left for New York and Boston. They will be at home Wednesdays during October at the residence of Mr. W. L. Follmer, Carroll Avenue, Takoma Park.
